Thirteen Days Later .... By steamship Britannia

Arrest of O'Connell-Cotton still Rising. By an Express run by HARNDEN & Co. from Boston, we received yesterday the news by the steamship BRITANNIA, which arrived at Boston on Saturday evening, after a stormy passage of 161 days, having left Liverpool on the 19th ult.

Among the passengers in the Britannia were ex-Gov. THROOF of this State, Hon. HORACE Mann of Boston, H. D. Maxwell, Esq. of Eas. ton, Pa., and Mr. MARK, Consul General of Prus. sia. There were ninety-eight in all.

The name of Mr. WEED, of Albany, we regret not to find on the list.]

The news is important. O'Connell has been arrested by the British Government for nothing but peaceably holding meetings to petition Parliament for a peaceful Repeal of the Leg slative Union between Great Britain and Ireland. Thus Torvism in England has accomplished what Loco-Focoism has done in this country—the virtual ton's chambers. The hour fixed was three suppression of the Right of Petition, whenever it shall be exercised in favor of an object which the ruling power does not approve.

This unjust and illegal movement will give a great impetus to the cause of Repeal every where. O'Connell has given bail, and issued a Proclamation entreating the Repealers every where to be patient, peaceful and forbearing. The People heartily respond to this caution. If he and they but maintain their present attitude, their triumph cannot be far off.

The Cotton Market has evinced extraordinary activity, with a decided advance. This will be good news to the growers and holders in this

France is tranquil. Spain is becoming so. WALES is disturbed. GREAT BRITAIN is comparatively busy and prosperous. The treaty with CHINA has been ratified on all hands. Dr. Pusey has returned to Oxford, with his health restored.

SPAIN .- Rumors have been affoat that Cadiz, Carthagena and Marcia had 'pronounced.' San Sebastian was about to follow the example of Saragossa. There were fears of an encounter on the 26th, but up to the 27th all was tranquil.

We publish the Letter of our Anti-Repeal correspondent in London without omission or mutilation. It will be seen that he considers the arrest of O'Connell the end of Repeal! Wait a while, and see whether he is not mistaken. If he

The steps that preceded the arrest of O'Connell were as follows: A great meeting had been announced to be held at Clontarf on Sunday, the 8th ult. It was expected to be one of the largest meetings ever held in Ireland. De Gray, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, issued a proclamation forbidding it, on the ground of its being seditions illegal, &c. A Committee of the Repeal Association was immediately called, and, on the advice of O'Connell, the meeting at Clontarf countermanded. The proclamation of O'Connell requesting the Irish to abstain from assembling at the that their attendance was no longer required. Clontarf, and submit peacefully to the authorities, was accompanied with every effort to prevent them coming together. On Sunday all the guards of the city were doubled, and at 10 o'clock the whole garrison was drawn up at Clontarf. At every corner were excited multitudes reading the Lord Lieutenant's proclamation and O'Connell's notice. The streets were thronged with men driven hither and thither by the troops, cannon were loaded, and their muzzles pointed towards Dublin and the matches D. O'Connell,

But the people, it is said, did not fear them much, but taunted them with "insulting the people." In the midst of the people in a car rode Mr. Thomas Steele, head Pacificator in Ireland, bearing a green branch and reiterating the word 'home.' The crowd slowly moved off. This was on the 8th. On the 9th and 11th great repeal meetings were held in Dublin, at which Mr. O'Connell presided. The following letter to the people of Ireland, designed, it is said, to have been read at the Clontarf meeting, was published immediately after the proclamation of the Lord

"ADDRESS TO THE IRISH PEOPLE. "Corn-Exchange Rooms, Oct. 14, 1843.
"Fellow-Countrymen: We most heartily congratulate you on your excellent temper and good sense, and on the tranquil demeanor and peaceable conduct which you have evinced and still evince, under circumstances of no small irritation.

The management (to speak in very mitigated terms) of the late proclamation must be admitted by all to be at the least highly incautious. We could not say less of it; and we do not desire to say more at present, lest we should be accused of wishing to continue an excitement which it is our first object to mitigate and extinguish. You know full well you can place the most implicit reliance upon us. We never will give you any advice incon-sistent with your safety, or with the due maintanance of the public sentiment in favor of the independence of the Irish Legislature. You know that we cherish the pure flame of parriotic devotion to Ireland You know that the sacred love of father-land animates our bosoms with the determination never to abandon the pursuit of the repeal of the union until the Irish parliament shall be restored.

With these convictions on your mind, we readily anticipate your ready acquirescence in our advice. We state to you distinctly, that the only way to obtain the repeal of the Union is by legal, peaceful, and constitutional ex-riion. It is impossible that a nation pursuing such a course should not obtain its great object—that rational liberty which must in-clude the self management of local affairs.

clude the self management of local affairs.

If you commit a crime you strengthen the enemy. If you violate the law or break the peace, you fortify your foes. It is alleged that you are unfit for self-government. Oh, how falsely alleged? The best proof indeed, and the most brilliant that you can give of your capability of regulating your own public affairs, is the readiness with which you submir to the advice of your k nown friends, and the care you take not to originate or commence an attack upon any person .-The alacrity with which you submit not only to the reality but even to the semblance of legal power, proves that you are better fitted to manage your national concerns than are those in whose hands the practical detail of public business happens to be at present vested.

We, therefore, confidently advise you to observe the strictest order—to avoid all pretext for riot, tunult, or breach of the peace—to ashere firmly to your principles, but at the same time not to interfere with the opinions of any

It is our duty, as well as our interest to conciliate every -to injure no body-himly to rep between the repeal question and any distinction of creed or religion. What we seek is not for the benefit of a sect of persuasion, but it is intended equally for all.

Strong in these principles-dutiful in our allegiance to the crown-and ardent in our love of father land-convinced that our Parliamen, can be restored by no other means than those of peaceable and legal exertion-we most anxiously advise, most earnestly implore you, not to be seduced into any species of tumult, riot or violence, by any event that may occur.

On the 14th, nearly a week after the proclamation, O'Connell was arrested. We are informed, says the Limerick Chronicle, that it is the determination of government to prosecute Mr. O'Connell in the Court of Queen's Bench, for seditious language. The indictment is now being prepared by Mr. Kemmis, Crown Solicitor, under the advice of the Crown lawyers in London and Dublin. The materials for this proceeding were furnished, it is thought, by the language used at the Mullaghmast repeal meeting. ARREST OF O'CONNELL & EIGHT OTHERS.

Mr. O'Connell, and his son, Mr. J. O'Connell, were arrested on Saturday, October 14, upon warrents issued by Judge Burton, on information sworn before him on the day previous. An announcement to this effect having been made in the Dublin Evening Mail of the preceding evening, very great excitement was caused, and hundreds were assembled about the head police office, making anxious inquiries. The parties on duty there, however, replied that they knew nothing on | ving of the staple, and part of it had been sold

Mr. O'Connell remained at his house, in Merrion Square, and, having received the sacrament, was waited upon at half-past nine by Mr. Kemmiss, the crown solicitor, who informed him that informations had been lodged, and warrants issued against him and his son, who was at the same time with him; and requested to know at what hour he would attend, with bail, at Judge Buro'clock; and shortly before that time Mr. O'Connell, Mr. John O'Connell, with Mr. Cornelius M'Loughlin and Mr. Jeremiah Dunne, arrived at Judge Burton's house. A few other friends subsequently arrived; but the proceedings were altogether of a very private nature.

Mr. O'Connell having called on the crown solicitor for copies of the informations, which were refused, his solicitor delivered in a demand to be supplied with the same. Mr. O'Connell then requested to see the information on which the warrant was issued; and, having coolly read it over, said he was ready to give the bail required, and entered into recognizances, himself in £1,000, and Mr. M'Loughlin and Mr. Dunne in £500 each, to answer a charge of conspiracy and mis-O'Connell having done the same (the same genlicitor gave to each the copies of the information required, which he said he could not before, as then retired.

Mr. O'Connell immediately caused the following address to be issued:

"TO THE PEOPLE OF IRELAND. "Beloved Fellow-Countrymen !- I announce to you that which you will hear from other quarters, namely, that I have this day given bail to answer to a charge of 'conspiracy and other misdemeanors, the first day of next term. I make this announcement in order to conjure the people, one and all, to observe the strictest and most perfect tranquillity. Any at tempt to disturb the public peace may be most disastrous; certainly, would be criminal and mischievous.

" Attend, then, beloved countrymen, to me. not tempted by anybody to break the peace, to violate the law, or to be guilty of any turnult or disturbance. The r beautiful and otherwise triumphant cause.

If you will, during this crisis, follow my advice, and act as I entreat you to do, patiently, quietly and legally, I think I can pledge myself to you, that the period is not far distant our revered Sovereign will open the Irish Parliament Every attempt of our enemies to disturb the progress of Repeal hitherto has had a direct contrary effect. This attempt will also fail, unless it be assisted by any misconduct

i the part of the People.
"Be tranquil, then, and we shall be triumphant.—I have the honor to be your ever-faithful friend, " DANIEL O'CONNELL.

WALES .- Tuesday's Gazette contained a proclamation by the Queen respecting the Rebecca riots in South Wales, and especially in Pembroke, Cardigan, and Carmarthenshire, "strictly commanding all justices of the peace, undersheriffs, and all other civil officers whatsoever, that they do use their utmost endeavors to repress all tumults, riots, outrages and breaches of the peace; and to discover, apprehend and bring to justice the persons concerned in the riotous and wicked proceedings aforesaid;" and offering rewards of £500 for the actual perpetrators of incendiary fires or fatal outrages upon the person, and of £50 for the discovery of perpetrators of the other outrages in question; with a promise of pardon to all informers save the actual perpetrators.

CHINA .- American Cottons .- This arrival brings accounts of the result of some of those American shipments to China, which caused so much sensation in this country a few months ago Although but a moderate portion of the 'domes tics' which were shipped had arrived in China, they were selling at very low prices. Cloth which had cost 9s. 9d. to 10s. in the U. States had been sold at $2 50; and, just before the departure of the steamer, $2 30, at which latter price there would be an entire loss of the interest and charges. One cargo of American Cotton, consisting of 2800 bales, had also arrived, and had been offered for sale at Canton, but did not appear to suit the market at all; the Chinese manufacturers not approat about 3d. per pound, a price certainly not calculated to encourage further shipments. The price of cotton was, however, altogether much depressed at Canton, and the unfavorable acunts from thence are likely to cause considerable shipments from Bombay to this country.

COTTON, October 6.—Since the arrival of the Britannia steamship, on Saturday last, there has been a very extensive inquiry for Cotton, both from the trade and speculators; the latter have taken 31,000 bales this week, and the sales altogether have amounted to 74,080 bales; 59,270 American 2,570 Brazil: 2,860 Egyptian, 480 West India, and 8,900 East India. Prices of American and common Surut have advanced fully 1d per lb. Brazil and Egyptian are 1 per lb higher, and Sea Islands are 1d per lb. dearer than on this day

October 13-Extensive as were the sales of last week, those of the present one have been considerably larger; for the same number of days, the business has surpassed any done in our market during the last nineteen years. The unusually great animation is attributed to the ratification of the treat with China, together with the backwardness of the American crop and the healthy state of commercial affairs in our manufacturing districts. There is a farther improvement in prices of id to id per lb on the common and middle qualities of American. id per lb on Brazil, Egyptians, and Surats, and of fully id per lb on Sea Islands. The arrival of the next steamer from Boston and Halifax, is looked forward to with some anxiety, as any farther confirmation of the previous ac-counts regarding the crops will probably push prices still higher.—Unassisted by any export demand, the sales this week have amounted to 91.580 bales, of which speculators have taken 52,400 bales. The transactions have comprised 67,920 American; 5,770 Brazil, 2,030 Egyptian; 2,630 West India, and 13,330 East India, &c.

Trade-Cotton-Bullion-O'Connell. Foreign Correspondence of the New-York Tribune. London, Oct. 18, 1843. Messrs. Greeley & McElrath, New-York :

DEAR SIRS: Since my last respects, the general trade of this country has fully maintained the improvement which I before informed you. had been experienced by every branch of both Foreign and Domestic Commerce. All articles of impor meet a fair and steady demand, at remunerating prices, while large foreign and domestic orders are giving ample employment to the manufacturing districts. The result of the harvest adds much to the returning prosperity of the country, as increasing the consumption of imported and manufactured articles, and giving confidence to capitalists in their investments, and it may be briefly said, that the prospects for future business have not been as cheering for many years. There was much excitement in cotton at Liverpool during the whole of last week, and the sales amounted to nearly 100,000 bales, at a small advance on prices. The market is much quieter this week, with moderate sales at firm prices; the large operations of last week are said to have been begun for account of American Houses, but as there is ascertained to be now in the country a full supply for 4 months' consumption, prices cannot be forced up much higher. Money continues very abundant, and is seeking good investment at very low rates of interest. The Bullion in the bank increases, and there is no apparent probabili. ty of a diminution.

The stock-market, which has been generally quiet, has been much strengthened by the bursting of the Repeal bub ble and the arrest of Daniel O'Connell, which has given additional confidence in the present ministry. The cause of this sudden interference by the government, was that the Reneal Council, in their orders for another Monster Meeting at Clontarf, gave their instructions in so military a fashion that the authorities felt it necessary to issue a proclamation forbidding the rssemblage of people at Clontarf-seconding this Proclamation by a sufficient military force to prevent any resistance. This Proclamation alarmed the Liberator and his confederates, who immediately issued their Proclamation advising the people to go home. This they did quietly enough-and the ext day Mr. O'Conneil began to explain away much that said at previous meetings; but this did not stop the anthorities, who issued their warrants for the apprehension of the learned Agitator, two of his sons, and several other prominent Repealers, on a charge of conspiracy. Bail has since been taken for them to appear early in No vember to take their trials. All this has been received very quietly by the Repealers and the people of the country to excitement, no riots, all very quiet-all of which is sufficiently mortifying to the sympathizers. Some who boasted of their connection with and subscriptions to the cause, now dare not whisper the word "Repeal." Mr. O'Connell is very humble, and loses no opportunity of backing out from all his former positions. No more bullying or boasting of the armies he could raise to render give me courage, as they said. One evening that I was watching near the canal of St. Martin, in company with two Ireland once more a Nation. All this is over; nay, morehe has abandoned Repeal-is willing to forget the name-and the band, Rapailleux, having judged by his dress that he had money, seized him by the throat and threw him to then ran forward and seized procure Universal Suffrage for them, and a Federal Paliato be seen what the Government will do with the rest of the faction. There is much reason to be grateful that the poor deforgotten. The troubles in Wales are fast subsiding by the application of local redress to the really crying grievances the Farmers. No doubt but in a few weeks all will be quiet. The election for the City of London commences to-morrow. The contest will be very sharp-it is looked upon as a test of the strength of free trade principles among the commercial community. Both parties are quite confident of success, and the result is doubtful; the lading merchants are in favor of Mr. Baring. the Conservative candidate, but Mr. Pattison and free trade have many advocates among the working classes. The Foreign news is very uninteresting. Spain continues unsettled; the Southern Provinces have generally declared against the authorities at Madrid, and it is almost impossible to judge the result; the party in power have certainly shown more firmness and activity than that of Espartero .-The strongest hand and the longest purse has the best chance. In France there is much grumbling at the Ministry, whose revenues appear to fall short of the expenses. Italy is again unsettled by revolutionary attempts, especially Apulia. The authorities appear alarmed and are taking active measures to put down the insurgents-some of whom have been shot. The Emperor of Russia has been shot at while returning from a visit to the King of Prussia-he was not hurt. Queen Victoria and the royal family are all at
